

North Atlanta PTSA
Newsletter

Volume XVII3 • No. 2
Spring, 2008

Sponsored by Buckhead Coalition, Inc.

NORTH ATLANTA HIGH SCHOOL

2875 Northside Drive, NW • Atlanta, Georgia
404.802.4700 • www.northatlantahigh.org

highlights

The Red Hot Jazz fundraising event was enjoyed by both students and parents.

The Aga Khan speaks at North Atlanta.

World leader boosts IB education at North Atlanta High School

The Aga Khan, spiritual leader of an estimated 20 million Ismaili Muslims, told a crowd of international educators about the urgency for greater cultural understanding inside all schools. The Aga Khan, a renowned philanthropist, described the need for strong global education at the 40th annual meeting of the International Baccalaureate Organization (IBO) this spring at North Atlanta High School.

Each year, the IBO holds the annual meeting of its Board of Governors in one of 127 countries. The international group chose NAHS in part because the school's IB Diploma Program was the first of its kind in the Southeast, when it began in 1982. Today, nearly 2,300 schools around the globe have authorized IB programs, including 26 high schools in Georgia.

Born and educated in Switzerland, the Aga Khan is a Harvard-educated businessman and chair of the Aga Khan Development Network — a group of private, non-denominational development agencies focused on social, cultural and economic development.

economic development.

In his rare speech to an audience of more than 400 gathered in the NAHS Theater, he described the work of the Aga Khan Academies, a $1 billion education initiative, to build 18 schools in 14 countries in Africa, Central and South Asia and the Middle East.

The Academies' curriculum is based on the International Baccalaureate program and aims to develop well-educated citizens who will make a difference in their local communities.

Previously rooted in Judeo-Christian communities, the Aga Khan Academies represent the first expansion of the IB curriculum into Muslim cultures.

"Too many of those who should be the leaders of tomorrow are being left behind today," said the Aga Khan. "And even those students who do manage to get a good education often pursue their dreams in far off places and never go home again."

NAH Principal Mark MyGrant said,

See World leader page 2 >

Aga Khan's visit puts media spotlight on NAHS, IB Program

Working with IBO's press office, the NAHS Foundation helped organize media attention for the Aga Khan's visit and IBO's Annual Meeting, with coverage by the Atlanta Journal-Constitution and local NPR affiliate WABE-FM, and write-ups planned by Atlanta Intown, Buckhead Living, Northside Neighbor and The Sunday Paper.

Meet our Valedictorian and Salutatorian,
page 4

Did You Know?

NAHS pioneered International Baccalaureate in Southeast

Did you know that North Atlanta High has the oldest International Baccalaureate Program in the Southeastern U.S.? If not, you're not alone. Most people do not realize that NAHS's IB Diploma Program was the first of its kind in Georgia and the Southeast when it was authorized in 1982.

NAHS's acclaimed four-year IB program was established 26 years ago at the urging of former president Jimmy Carter, former U.N. Ambassador and Atlanta mayor Andrew Young, and former U.S. Senator Wyche Fowler. Today, it instills global awareness through its rigorous, humanities-based interdisciplinary study of geography, history, politics, economics, mathematics, and literary analysis.

See Did You Know page 8 >

Principal thoughts

Dear Warrior Family,

My first year here has provided many opportunities to discover the uniqueness of what NAHS offers our community and to explore ways to further enhance the teaching and learning. While my North Atlanta journey has just begun, it is time for our Senior Warriors to leave NAHS!

The Class of 2008 is very special to me. I've known many of its members since they were eleven or twelve-years old. I consider it a distinct privilege to have played a part in creating the fine adults they have become. These Seniors were among the first to welcome me into their high school home last summer and I look forward to continuing the legacy of excellence and understanding which has been their hallmark during their time at NAHS.

And as the Class of 2008 spreads its wings, the Warrior Family is making plans to help the Class 2012 establish its roots at North Atlanta. Ninth-Grade Orientation will be held mid-May in the Lecture Hall. Our newest Warriors arrive at an exciting time. Thirty million dollar renovation plans and new technology upgrades are among the changes NAHS will experience in the coming months. Then, it will be time for me to "pay it forward" as I welcome our new students this August with the same Warrior warmth you extended to me last year. Let's finish the year strong and, then, have a relaxing summer break!

Mark MyGrant
Principal NAHS

World leader

continued from page 1

"It's a great honor to host the IBO annual meeting at North Atlanta. Dr. Doug Frutiger and our many dedicated IB instructors have built and maintained an amazing school-within-a-school over these many years, and IBO's choice to host their international annual meeting here says it all."

After the North Atlanta Jazz Band and the String Quartet performed during the day, Monique Seefried, chair of the IBO Board, said, "This is the epitome of an IB education. This is what we have talked about all week!"

NAHS Foundation makes major gifts

The North Atlanta High School Foundation announced a series of gifts totaling $11,500 to fund programs throughout the school. Recipients include the three Small Learning Communities, the PTSA, the Booster Club and several other programs.

$2,000	Center for the Arts	Video Equipment
$2,000	Business, Hospitality & Leadership	Technology and Equipment
$2,000	International Studies	Books and Materials for Language Programs
$1,000	PTSA	Discretionary Use
$1,000	NAHS Booster Club	Create Alumni Database of former athletes
$1,500	IBO Conference	Sponsor Major International Event at NAHS
$1,000	Black, Silver & Red Hot Jazz	Sponsor event to raise funds for SLCs
$1,000	Senior Class	Create and furnish a lounge for seniors

The mission of the NAHS Foundation is twofold:

- raise awareness in the local community of the strong performance of the school, and
- raise funds from outside the school community to improve school programs.

The Foundation made these gifts to the SLCs to meet their current high priority needs. "We support the work of the PTSA and Booster Club, and felt they would be able to use these gifts to leverage the work they do," said Bahnsen Stanley, Foundation President. "Holding the IBO conference at NAHS was a once in a lifetime opportunity for the school, so we wanted the school to look its best to all the attendees from around the world.

"We gave 'seed money' to the Red Hot Jazz event for marketing so the school can raise more funds. Mark MyGrant asked us to fund the Senior Lounge to reward the outstanding performance of this year's class; this gift will have lasting benefit for all classes to enjoy during their senior years."

The Foundation is currently working on major initiatives, including approaching businesses and foundations in the local community to support specific programs in the school and matching their interests with NAHS needs. The Foundation is also developing a database of alumni. "We are doing this so we can keep them informed of the school's performance and activities, which we hope will lead to more giving from our alumni," Stanley said.

The Foundation welcomes your help with introductions to businesses that you believe would give financial support to the school. Contact Bahnsen Stanley or Scotland Wright. If you have alumni information on classes before 2001 contact Mark Mygrant.

Honored at the Red Hot Jazz event were Small Learning Communities leaders (l to r) Dr. Michael Maze, Mr. Reginald Colbert and Dr. Doug Frutiger.

Julliard Jazz at NAHS

North Atlanta High School is hosting the prestigious Julliard Jazz Residency Program for one week this summer. The program is designed to give students a sample of what Julliard life is like: refining technique and performance, broadening understanding of various jazz styles, and working with Julliard faculty and Julliard jazz students. Teachers are from Julliard's Jazz Division.

The program accepts middle and high school students, between ages 11 and 18, who are dedicated, disciplined and passionate about jazz. All classes are at the NAHS Center for the Arts. Please contact Mr. Reginald Colbert at 404-802-4828 for more information.

A GREAT BIG THANK YOU!

Dear North Atlanta,

I cannot thank each and every one of you enough for all of your hard work and commitment to making our school shine during the week of IBO events. The parent volunteers were incredible. The Meisters worked hard to get the international flags hung on Tuesday evening. Tara Campbell made cauldrons of coffee and served as a perfect hostess. Margot Dawkins and Amy Durham saw to every last detail.

Principal Mark MyGrant served as the field marshal, organizing so many major projects and groups of people, while also being a tireless "Johnny On the Spot." Colonel Butler and his cadets supported wherever they were needed. Music Director Reggie Colbert rearranged his office and managed all the details for the production, including orchestrating wonderful performances by Annalise MacKinnon on the piano and our outstanding Jazz Band. The students, William Wagstaff and Sonia Kikeri, represented our school so well as they talked with the directors. Board Foundation Member Randall Kirsch managed some great publicity.

Also, special thanks to Mary Hansen, Peggy Wright, Melissa Gautreaux, Sharron Pitts, Tim Robinson and our custodial staff. So many others did so much. I hope they all know how much it is appreciated

I am so proud to be a part of a school where so many people give so much of themselves and their time to make sure that something like this meeting is done in a way that makes us shine. Thank you all for your patience. This is the first time the IBO has ever done anything on such a grand scale, and certainly the first time that the New York IB people have been involved in the organization of such a project. Every one worked to accommodate them. What a smashing success it was!

In my universe, there is a shining star in the heavens for each one of you.

Thank you,

Doug Frutiger
IB Coordinator

A LETTER FROM THE PTSA PRESIDENT

Dear North Atlanta Family:

As my last year as PTSA president, I would like to thank all the parents who have supported the PTSA through volunteer efforts and donations. North Atlanta would not be the awesome school it is without your support.

This year has been one of major transition. Our new administrators, teachers and counselors have all met the challenges. As a team, they focused on building academic excellence and setting standards that will make North Atlanta High School one of the best schools in Atlanta.

This year's PTSA theme was "I Am The Future." How do we prepare our young women and men for the future? For success? We do so by acting as a unified body of parents, teachers and administrators and implementing programs that build a strong foundation. With this goal in mind, the College Zone was revived. Through the College Zone several programs were implemented, including College Application Strategy and Preparation, Interviewing Seminars, Standardized Test preparation through partnerships with Success Prep, Princeton Review and Kaplan, in addition to providing an avenue where students could have an open line of communication and a cozy environment to explore their career path.

How did your PTSA dollars help us? Your PTSA contributions went towards the rebuilding of the College Zone, Reflections Program, Calling Post, Faculty & Staff Appreciation, Honors Banquet, Hospitality, Senior Activities, Saturday School, Teacher Grants, Senior Scholarships and Visions. Through personal donations from individuals, the Buckhead Coalition, the Ehigiamusoe Foundation, and National PTA, we also supported the PEC program, Wellness program, our Small Learning Centers, Spring Tour of Colleges, the NAHS newsletter and student scholarships. Your dollars helped enable us to make a vision a reality and create a school environment where all students benefit.

Your voice is important. Your time is needed. Your continued support is welcomed.

Again, thank you.

Tangelea Gillon
North Atlanta High School PTSA President

McCall's Media Moment

Lori McCall, Media Specialist

It's Spring and time for celebrations! We've had School Library Media Month, Environmental Awareness Month, Earth Day and Math Awareness Month! In honor of all these celebrations, Mrs. Gilley-Costarides (Social Studies teacher) and Ms. McCall (Media Specialist) collaborated with the students of the Earth Club and began a campaign to get the entire school involved in learning more about how we can make a positive change in our world.

Around the school and in the community, you'll soon see some fabulous "circles" generated by Ms. Mshinda's (Math teacher) students to promote the knowledge they've gained in mathematics and environmental awareness. There are gorgeous mosaics of peace and environmental awareness created out of recycled materials by Mrs. Brandhorst's (Art teacher) students. Mrs. Ricca-Brazil (English teacher) and the Beta Club students spent an afternoon at the Atlanta Humane Society helping the animals.

Special thanks are in order to James

Mowery and Publix for donating the "green" grocery bags to be used as prizes for environmentally aware teachers and staff, to the Eco-Brokers of Harry Norman Realtors for their generosity in providing the funds to purchase the recycling bins for the teachers, and to Life Grocery Store in Marietta, Planet Smoothie, Chick fil A, and Lori McCall for several of the "goodies" in the bags.

Let's continue to make every day Earth Day at NAHS, in our homes, and in our world.

My life in France

By: Maria Dieci

The APS sponsored Semester Abroad program is an incredible opportunity for any student. This year I was lucky enough to get chosen for this experience, along with fellow IB juniors, DJ Lievens and Sonia Kikeri. On January 8, the three of us, along with a girl from Mays, set off on this incredible journey to France. We all lived in the small town of St. Brieuc, located on the northern coast of Brittany. The first day, we got off the train at the town station and met our host families for the first time. Everyone was so welcoming and happy to see us that, although we were exhausted from the long trip, we spent the evening getting to know the great people that took us into their homes and lives.

We started school the next day; nervous but excited. The four of us were split between two high schools: Lycee St. Charles and Lycee Renan. Our teachers and classmates were all curious about the new Americans just as we were curious about them. During my time at school, I learned a lot in my classes, but also about my French friends. I know that they learned a lot about my culture and me as well. In school, we studied and did work together, and outside of school we would go get hot croissants or crepes on a street corner.

When we weren't in school, we were spending time with our host families, exploring the beautiful countryside in our area. We walked up the steep alley ways of Mont St. Michel, wandered through the alignments of dolmens at Carnac, and traveled the rocky coast of northern Brittany. We tried foods typical of the area, such as gallettes and coquilles St. Jacques, and took countless pictures. We strengthened our relationships with our host families, and formed lasting bonds.

We did venture farther inland; spending four days in Paris. We wore ourselves out walking and taking the metro through the busy city, but we saw all the main sights. We were thrilled to finally see the Mona Lisa, climb the tower of Notre Dame, walk through the palace at Versailles, and see Paris at night from the top of the Eiffel Tower. We returned to St. Brieuc eager to see our host families and satisfied with our trip.

The last few weeks passed by in a blur. We were all completely comfortable and used to the lives we were living there. We had made good friends, eaten delicious foods, seen beautiful places, and really learned the language. When it came time to leave, none of us wanted to go, and we all came back a little bit different. I am so glad to have been given this opportunity, as it was one of the best experiences of my life!

"Certificates de Participation" were awarded to Monsieur Maury's 3rd year French class for participating in a short story contest with the French Consulate.

NAHS teacher wins top honors

North Atlanta High IB teacher Jill Stewart was the winner of the 2008 Awesome Teacher Award. Ms. Stewart received the award from the Each One Reach One Community Impact Project, Inc. The Project honored 20 teachers who have been selected as some of the most awesome teachers in the Atlanta Public School System.

Ms. Stewart received a crystal trophy and a $1000 cash prize at the ceremony held at the 755 Club at Turner Field. The three runner-ups were from Agnes Jones Elementary School, Southside High School and Grady High School.

"Our Awesome Teacher Awards program underscores our commitment to supporting quality education in our communities by honoring these awesome teachers and the creative opportunities they bring to each student in their classroom," said NAHS graduate Antonio Jennings, Founder of Each One Reach One.

The Awesome Teacher Awards competition is open to educators in all Atlanta Public Schools. An independent panel of judges selected twenty out of 147 entries. The guest speaker for this event was Elisabeth Omilami of Hosea Feed the Hungry & Homeless and the Mistress of Ceremonies was Jovita Moore of WSB-TV.

The 2008 scholarship recipients were Michael Campbell, Chelsey Williams, William Smalls, Jamaal Rasheed, Jordan Jemison, and Morgan Everheart of North Atlanta High School. Mays and Columbia High Schools also had scholarship winners.

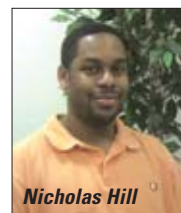

Above, left to right, Elisabeth Omilami, Jill Stewart, Antonio Jennings and Jovita Moore.

Congratulations!

North Atlanta High has chosen two outstanding faculty members as their 2008-2009 Teacher of the Year and Paraprofessional of the Year. The two were chosen from a list of strong candidates. Ms. Dwionne Cannon was chosen as the Teacher of the Year and Mr. Nicholas Hill was chosen as the Paraprofessional of the Year.

Dwionne Cannon

Nicholas Hill

Former NFL player tapped for head coach

The wait is over! After an extensive search for the ideal match, a new football coach has been selected. Coach Brian Montgomery, former coach at Selma High School in Selma, AL will return to Atlanta to be the head football coach for the NAHS Warriors.

Montgomery, an Atlanta native, played ball for Banneker High School, eventually earning a scholarship to play for Texas Southern University. While there, Montgomery earned a Bachelor's of Science degree. After successful play at the collegiate level, Montgomery found himself part of the Seattle Seahawks organization.

Montgomery returned to education after playing professional football earning a Masters of Science Degree in Education at Alabama State University. Able to teach science in the classroom and coach more than just football, Montgomery is currently working on his PhD in educational leadership. As an experienced head coach, his dedication, to accountability, integrity and professionalism has already brought much success to student athletes. Students, faculty and parents are excited about his vision for a winning season. Go Warriors! — Rob Whitman, AD

Congratulations to the Warrior baseball team for winning the 2008 Atlanta Public Schools tournament!! They finished the season strong with a 19 - 6 record.

Coach Whitman took 3 NAH wrestlers to State this year. Pictured l-r, Coach Whitman, Courtney Moore, Clyde Thomas, and Chris Henderson. Courtney placed 8th in State in his weight class. Way to go Warriors!!

College Tour 2008: North Atlanta students visit nation's top universities

Five North Atlanta students and four parents took the NAHS "Second Annual Spring Break College Tour." Students included William Wagstaff, Donald Duff, Jeneese Greenwood, Sonia Kikeri and Annelise Mackinnon. Parent chaperones were Skip and Tangelea Gillon, Roopa Bhandari and Leslie Mackinnon.

The first stop was Dartmouth College in Hanover, New Hampshire.

Day two found the group up early and eagerly listening to an information session about Harvard University and then taking a tour of the campus in Cambridge, Mass. This is a lively and stimulating town that is home to many highly regarded colleges, including Radcliff, M.I.T., and Lesley University.

That afternoon the group saw Boston University and then ended the day at Boston College. Leaving Boston on day three, the group traveled to Providence, Rhode Island and the campus of Brown University. The group enjoyed lunch with Julie Mohammed, a 2007 graduate of NAHS, who had never considered college outside of Georgia, before taking the NAHS Spring Break College Tour 2006.

By late afternoon, the van rolled into New Haven, Conn. and onto the Yale campus. After dinner with freshman Alex Gillon, and a trip to the Yale Bookstore, both students and parents enjoyed their separate evenings. The students spent the night in the dorms with "Yalies" and the parents enjoyed a quiet rest in a sumptuous hotel with all the amenities. Parents and students described the campus as "amazing." The architecture is Gothic and unforgettable.

After breakfast in one of the Yale dining halls, the group headed to New York City for an early tour of Columbia University. The next stop was Princeton University then on to Washington, D.C. for an afternoon tour of Georgetown University. In the heart of the nation's capitol, the opportunities to get involved in politics or international affairs at Georgetown are exceptional. Many students accept internships on Capitol Hill. This Catholic campus on the edge of Georgetown was just cranking up for Friday evening activities, and the air was filled with the sounds of live bands.

This trip helped students and parents deepen their understanding about the college process and what it takes to get into the top universities. New friends were made and existing friendships were strengthened. A special thanks goes to PTSA president Tangelea Gillon and Skip Gillon, who gave this week to the students of North Atlanta High School. Plans are being made for "Spring Break College Tour 2009."

Read the article in its entirety on NAHS website.

Students in NAHS News

BHL Students headed to the United States Military Academy at West Point - Juniors QuinTonia Colbert and Jessica Inlaw have been selected to attend West Point's Summer Seminar. The United States Military Academy conducts the Summer Leadership Academy for academically gifted high school juniors going into their senior year. The SLS is a weeklong program of academic workshops, military training, physical fitness training and intramural athletics. In addition, Cadet Jessica Inlaw was recently awarded the Distinguish Superior Board Award with JROTC.

UGA or "BUST" - Eight Accounting students have applied for Georgia's Society of Certified Public Accountants High School Residency Program at the University of Georgia. If selected, these students will attend the University of Georgia for one week and participate in an intensive summer program, which exposes students to Generally Accepted Accounting Principles and provide them with concrete and practical knowledge accounting careers. In addition, Danielle Curtis, a BHL junior was recognized by Georgia's Society of Certified Public Accountants as an outstanding junior and was honored at the Annual Society of Certified Public Accountant High School Students Luncheon.

NAHS Junior Phillip Modesitt won a first place gold key for his project in the Atlanta Public Schools' Math and Science Fair. He then represented North Atlanta High at the One Academic Fair in the gold key run-offs. Phillip's project was entitled "Can a Walker be Redesigned to Help Improve Posture and Movement?"

Kristina "Camille" Sims, a 15 year old freshman in the IS program at North Atlanta High and daughter of Tracy and Tommy Sims of Atlanta has been crowned Miss Georgia Jr. Teen, United States 2008. Camille will represent GA in the national competition held in July in Las Vegas NV.

Congratulations to the following seniors who received football scholarships on National Signing Day: Derrick Boddie (Valdosta State), DeAndre Derico-Lewis (Valdosta State), and Tommy Smith (Boise State).

Coca-Cola Scholar - Joshua Williams received an $80,000 scholarship from Coca-Cola.

Magic Museum Sparks Math Interest

This semester, 90 Algebra II students invented an interactive math museum for students and their parents. The mathematicians from Ms. Mshinda's and Dr. Daniel's classes prepared 25 interactive exhibits. More than 270 NAH students enjoyed playing optical illusions, networks, slot machines, roulette, wheel of fortune, craps, engineering and many other games. The Algebra II students who hosted the event designed and made all the exhibits.

The Math Magic Museum was open during the evening. More than 40 parents participated and they were often stumped by their students mathematical skills. Both parents and the students said they were delighted to discover how much fun there could be in math by exploring the "Magic Museum."

Refreshments were provided by community sponsors: Publix, Salsa, Patrick's Sub Shop, and Einstein Brothers Bagels. A grant, funded through PRISM at Georgia Tech, helped pay for the supplies to make the exhibits. Both teachers and students look forward to creating another Math Magic Museum next year.

Congratulations to the following students who are new members of the National Honor Society and the National Beta Club. These students were recently recognized at the induction ceremony held at North Atlanta.

National Honor Society Inductees:

Margaret Anderson	Bakhtawar Mazhar	Jordan Carter
Nia Andrews-Eagle	Lee McDonald	Basha Dorsey
Ayana Barry-Buchanan	Matthew Meister	Kyler Griffin
Malika Begum	Phillip Modesitt	Shuntol Holloway
Derron Bowles	Elyas Munye	Jessica Jones
Mackenzie Buck	Magan Ngoto	I'isha Langford
Matthew Campbell	Julian Rainwater	Daavonia Lee
Maria Dieci	Katie Saul	Precious Lee
Comian Gassou	Adrienne Shaw	Evangeline McDonald
Jeffery Gibson	Demario Ward	Kareese McGregory
Ross James	Lucy Wille	Devon Sims
Sonia Kikeri	Cara-Joy Wong	Nicole Stroud
Ben Lai	Beta Club Inductees:	Demario Ward
Daniel Lievens	KK Allen	Tykeria West
Annelise Mackinnon	Eboni Armstrong	Chelsea Williams

Grady Health System Scholar

Congratulations to Adrienne Shaw for receiving a $500.00 scholarship from Grady Health System. Adrienne was selected to participate as a Peer Educator for Grady. At this time, Adrienne has not finalized her college plans. She was accepted at the following schools: Johnson C. Smith, Spellman, Georgia Southern, Tuskegee, Oglethorpe, Hollins, Hampton, Michigan State and Holy Cross.

Gates Millenium Scholars

William Wagstaff and Kyler Griffin have been awarded the Bill Gates Scholarship. The Gates Millenium Scholarship is a full ride academic scholarship. William was accepted at Columbia, Brown, Stanford, Cornell, Johns Hopkins, Emory, and Duke. Kyler was accepted at Stanford, Vanderbilt, Duke, University of Georgia, University of North Carolina, and Washington University - St. Louis.

West Point Scholarship

Jasmine Johnson will be attending the United States Military Academy at West Point. She received a $400,000.00 scholarship.

HIGHLIGHTS is a publication of the North Atlanta High School PTSA, celebrating and informing the North Atlanta family and community.

PTSA Board of Directors 2007-2008

Presidents - Tangelea Gillon

Vice President - Anita Harris

Secretary - Cynthia Brown

Treasurer - Margaret Moore

Parliamentarian - Peggy Wright

VP Communications - Mary Hansen

VP Liaison - Dianne Irby

Co-VP Activities - Dexter Smalls and Sherida Brown

VP Development - Margot Dawkins

VP Support - Darlene LaHasky

Did You KNow?

continued from page 1

"For years we were alone until Atlanta International School's IB program was authorized in 1990 and Macon Central was authorized in 1993," said NAHS IB Program Coordinator Dr. Douglas Frutiger. "After 2000, the IB boomed in Georgia. We now have 26 high schools offering the IB Diploma Program across the state."

NAHS's IB program offers four foreign language options (Arabic, Chinese, French and Spanish), opportunities for study abroad and a host of complementary extracurricular activities. Students in North Atlanta's International Studies Program choose either the International Business Program (IBP) track or the International Baccalaureate (IB) track.

According to the International Baccalaureate Organization, the IB diploma is a passport to higher education. Universities around the world welcome the unique characteristics of IB Diploma students and recognize the way in which the program prepares students for university level education. IB students routinely gain admission to some of the best known universities in the world. Most of these institutions award college credit for high school IB courses. Some give as much as a full-year college credit to those who earn the IB Diploma.

Frequently check the school website WWW.NORTHATLANTAHIGH.ORG for updates and detailed information!

First day of school for the 2008-09 school year is August 11. See you then! Have a great summer!

North Atlanta High School
2875 Northside Drive NW
Atlanta, Georgia 30305
404.802.4700

NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION
U.S. Postage
PAID
Atlanta, GA
Permit #923

Teachers cheered at the Faculty/student basketball game benefitting the March of Dimes.

COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY ACCEPTANCES

from information provided to date

Allen, Kraynewskia
Savannah State University
Johnson C. Smith

Alvarez, Forrest
Georgia State University

Austin, Jay
University of Southern California

Azanyah, Rafiqah
Auburn University
Georgia State University

Bailey, Christina
South Carolina State University
Bethune Cookman College

Battle, Jazmia
Hampton University.
UGA School of Dance

Bhiwandiwalla, Reza
University of Georgia

Block, Tiana
California State University-
Northridge

Boddie, Derrick
Valdosta State

Brooks, Alexandria
University of Alabama
University of Cincinnati

Broughton, Shavaughn
University of Alabama-Birmingham
University of North Carolina-
Charlotte

Buck, McKenzie
Berry College
Oglethorpe University
Clemson University
Appalachian State University
Kennesaw State University

Campbell, Michael
Emory University
University of Georgia
Georgia Institute of Technology

Cavanaugh, Alexandra
Oxford College of Emory University

Charles, Nasha
Andrew College

Cooper, Jonathan
Boston University

Davis, Darius
South Carolina State University

DeMilo, Cara
University of Georgia
University of Colorado at Boulder
University of Maryland
Rutgers University

Derico-Lewis, De Andre
Valdosta State

Dutro, Brett
Georgia Institute of Technology

Everheart, Morgan
Howard University
North Carolina A&T State University
Tennessee State University
University of Miami
University of Tennessee

Grozdanova, Marina
University of Chicago
Georgia Institute of Technology
New York University

Grant, Lauren
Georgia Southern University
Georgia State University

Griffin, Kyler
Vanderbilt University
Washington University-St. Louis
University of North Carolina-
Chapel Hill
Duke University
Emory University
University of Georgia

Holloway, Shuntol
Tennessee Tech
Huda, Nurun
American Intercontinental University

Hudson, David
Herzing College

Ice, Jasmine
Berry College
Georgia State University

Jackson, Cedric
Western Kentucky University

Jemison, Jordan
Boston University

Johnson, Jasmine
USMA - West Point

Kraynewskia, Allen
Savannah State University

Lawrence, Victor
Stillman College

Lee, Precious
Tuskegee University

Leon, Alexandria
Savannah College of Art and Design

Leonard, David
Hampton University.
Howard University
Georgia State University

McGregory, Kareese
Tuskegee University
Edwards Waters College
Queens University of Charlotte

Mills, Christina
Columbus State University

Mirza, Mohammad
Wagner College

Palma, Ariel
Georgia State University
Georgia Southern University
Franklin College
University of West Georgia

Parker, Sarah
University of Georgia
New York University
The University of Washington

Patrie, Logan
Southern Polytechnic State University

Pearson, Phyllisa
Howard University
University of Miami
Elon University
Valdosta State University

Pelosi, Riley
Pacific Lutheran University
University of San Diego
Chapman University
Occidental College
Santa Clara University
University of California -
Santa Barbara
University of California - Los Angeles

Peters, Nikita
Colorado State
Xavier U. Biomedical Honor Corps
University of Georgia

Rasheed, Jamaal
Georgia State University
University of New Orleans

Riley, Ti'Anna
Tennessee State University
Fort Valley State University
Alabama A&M

Sabir, Dalyah
Morgan State University
Tuskegee University

Sandler, Joshua
Georgia Institute of Technology

Saul, Emily
Georgia State University
The University of Alabama
The University of South Carolina

Sharmin, Thamina
St. Catherine College

Shaw, Adrienne
Michigan State University
Oglethorpe University
Tuskegee University
Hollins University
College of the Holy Cross
Hampton University
Johnson C. Smith

Sherman, Jasmine
Georgia Southern University

Smith, Tommie
Boise State University

Tapia, Eduardo
University of Georgia
Auburn University

Thomas, Brandon
University of Georgia

Thompson, Jordan
Queen's University of Charlotte
University of Alabama
Georgia State University
Georgia Southern University

Uddin, Mosla
Georgia State University

Viera, Jarvis
Illinois Wesleyan University
Cornell University

Wagstaff, William
Cornell University
Johns Hopkins University
Brown University
Stanford University
Columbia University

Ward, DeMario
Tennessee State
Georgia State University

Watson, Charles
University of Alabama
Webb, Tracey
Oxford College of Emory University

Williams, Joshua
Howard University

Winslow, Victoria
Spelman College